

Business Readiness Framework

From IBM, the framework is based on best practices and identifies seven business readiness enablers for people, business and technology aspects.

